Methylated Resveratrol - SR provides a complete bioflavonoid complex with resveratrol, quercetin, and pterostilbene to take advantage of three antioxidants with known synergisms. Pterostilbene is a new focus of scientific research because it is resveratrol with attached methyl groups, suggesting that it is "bio-optimized," especially in conjunction with resveratrol and quercetin. These compounds are being extensively studied in the areas of cardiovascular health, cell replication, capillary integrity and aging.*
